CONSTRUCTION LAW

Richardson Plowden's Construction Law Practice Group is focused on three primary areas: construction law, federal contracts, and fidelity and surety. This team includes attorneys with extensive backgrounds in construction and engineering, experience that is leveraged to the client's advantage when structuring, negotiating and enforcing contracts, as well as when pursuing claims related to bonds, payment, and delay and acceleration. We also represent clients in construction and design defect litigation, procurement and bidding disputes, and mechanics liens. Matters are handled in local, state and federal courts, as well as through alternative dispute resolution.

We encourage you to contact any of our experienced contracts and litigation attorneys listed below.
